

CPCU® Designation Scholarship for College & University Students

Scholarship Overview

Each year, The Institutes Designations offers 100 scholarships for the CPCU designation program as a way to encourage continuous learning and the pursuit of professional development, with 20 of those scholarships being reserved for full-time students. The scholarship covers the cost of:

- Online CPCU study materials
- CPCU exam fees
- Matriculation
- Waiver fees (for qualifying external coursework)

Scholarship Nominee Qualifications

An institution can select up to two (2) applicants for the CPCU Designation Scholarship. Applicants must be:

- A full-time undergraduate student, majoring or interested in insurance, risk management, actuarial science, finance, or related field of study, and not currently employed in the field
- Nominated by the department chair or college dean
- Maintaining a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher
- Able to complete the CPCU program within two (2) years of receiving the scholarship
- Must be able to start the CPCU program within 30 days of accepting the scholarship

Required Materials

- Completed application
- Letter of recommendation from department chair or college dean
- Personal statement answering the question “Why do you want to obtain the CPCU designation?”
- Essay Question: “What do you believe are the most pressing challenges facing the insurance industry today, and how would you approach solving them as a future leader?”

How To Apply

Applicants should complete the online application, where they will be required to upload their letter of recommendation and personal statement.

We will be reviewing applications as we receive them. Applications open the first day of March.
